Dr. Weitzman runs to raise cancer research funds

Dr. Stuart Weitzman, who maintains a private practice in Bedford Hills, is running for cancer research. Dr. Weitzman took up running nearly four years ago to fill the void of soccer and lacrosse. It has blossomed into something he is passionate about. It started with a Bedford Turkey Trot for fun and now he is training to run in the 2009 NYC ING Marathon in November. He is running the marathon for Fred's Team, which is a charity to raise money for cancer research and Memorial Sloan Kettering Hospital in Manhattan.

Dr. Weitzman is running in honor of his mother and brother, both of whom were successfully treated at Sloan Kettering Hospital and doing well. If you would like to donate, visit fredsteam.mskcc.org and enter his name — Stuart Weitzman.
